For over 200 days, you have been sitting on HR8, the House's bi-partisan comprehensive background check bill. But for years, you deliberately have done nothing, while watching Americans tragically die.

In the first weekend of August, 31 people were killed, and hundreds of others injured in mass acts of gun violence in 24 hours, and on average 100 Americans will be shot and killed every day you do not act.

I, and an overwhelming majority of Americans, demand that you pass research-backed gun safety legislation, including legislation requiring universal background checks and a ban on military style assault weapons, as well as a bill enacting Red Flag laws.

CONGRESS MUST ACT NOW

to end this self-destroying epidemic of gun violence.
