VOTE

Not voting is not a statement.

It's rendering yourself invisible.

It's silencing your own voice.

It's self-marginalization.

It's allowing your future

to be determined by other people and pretending that's a victory.
